Fraudster jailed

A WOMAN has been jailed for six months after illegally claiming more than £65,000 in benefits.

Adama Turay, 38, claimed she was living alone in Etherley Road, Tottenham, between April 2005 and July 2007.

However, she was living with her husband, who was working, meaning that Turay illegally claimed £65,757 in housing benefit, council tax benefit and income support.

Turay was jailed for six months at Wood Green Crown Court on April 5 after being found guilty of four charges of dishonestly making a false statement when claiming benefits. She was ordered to repay the money.

Baby P killer is back behind bars

On parole: Jason Owen

A MAN jailed in connection with the death of Baby P in Tottenham is back behind bars after breaching his bail conditions.

Jason Owen, now of Bromley, south London, was jailed for six years in May 2009 after being found guilty of causing or allowing the death of 17-month-old Peter Connelly following a trial at the Old Bailey.

The toddler was found dead in a blood-stained cot on August 3 2007, having suffered horrific injuries.

That was despite Peter being on the at-risk register and having received numerous visits from social workers, police and health professionals in the months leading up to his death.

Peter's mother Tracey Connelly admitted causing or allowing her son's death and was jailed in 2009.

Owen and his brother Stephen Barker, with whom he was lodging at the time of Peter's death, pleaded not guilty but were convicted of the same offence.

Owen, who is now 39, challenged the indeterminate sentence he received and was given a six-year prison term instead.

He was released on parole in August 2011, which was halfway through his sentence after time spent on remand before his trial was taken into account.

Owen was subject to strict bail conditions following his release from jail. The Ministry of Justice has not revealed the circumstances surrounding his return to prison.

Thousands protest ahead of benefits cap coming into force

A CAP on benefits has come into force in Haringey and three other London boroughs this week.

It means that single parents and couples in Haringey, neighbouring Enfield and Croydon and Bromley in south London will not receive more than £500 a week, while benefits for single people will be capped at £350.

The cap applies to jobseeker's allowance, income support, housing and child benefit, but not disability benefits. It will be imposed nationwide between July and September.

The move has met with anger in Haringey and on Saturday more than 1,000 protesters marched from Tottenham Town Hall to Bruce Castle Park.

The 1,000 Mothers March For Justice was organised by Reverend Paul Nicolson, from Taxpayers Against Poverty, who said: "The name of this march was inspired by many years working with families struggling to pay off rent and council tax arrears.

"So often it was the mother who went without to feed her children, or who was embarrassed because she could not pay for a school outing or because her growing child had worn out shoes and she could not afford new ones.

"Now many mothers with young children are left in debt, stressed, insecure and uncertain by the government's assault on housing benefit, not knowing where they are going to live.

"We are determined to spread the truth about the gross injustice of the coalition government's reforms of the benefit system."

The next event being organised by Taxpayers Against Poverty is a meeting at Day-Mer Community Centre, in Moorfields Road, Tottenham, from 7pm to 9pm on Monday to discuss the impact of cuts.

VIOLENT RAPIST GETS 13-YEAR PRISON TERM

A MAN has been jailed for 13 years after pleading guilty to raping a woman in Finsbury Park and robbing another woman near Manor House Underground station.

Romanian national Filip Ion, 38, was sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court on Thursday for the crimes that took place last year.

Ion was given a nine-year jail term for the rape in September 2012 and a four-year sentence for the robbery, which took place a month later. The two prison terms will be served consecutively.

Shortly after midnight on September 2 2012, a 29-year-old woman was walking home from Finsbury Park Underground station when she spotted a man - later discovered to be Ion - who appeared to be in distress.

She stopped and offered him help, but when she found Ion was okay, she continued walking home.

However, Ion followed her as she headed along Parkland Walk, pulling her to the ground and repeatedly punching her in the face before raping her. He then fled.

Police managed to obtain DNA from the crime scene but it did not match anyone from the national database.

Around 12.30am on October 14, a 42-year-old woman was walking along Green Lanes from Manor House Tube station when she saw a man following her.

He caught her up and nudged her arm, and despite the woman asking him to leave her alone and trying to get away, he punched her from behind, knocking her to the ground and causing her to hit her face.

The attacker grabbed her and tried to stop her from screaming but when two people came to her aid, he fled, stealing her handbag before dropping it as he tried to escape.

Police were called and when they drove the woman around the area to find her attacker, she immediately identified Ion.

Ion was charged and remanded in custody for the robbery. A DNA sample taken matched that from the rape scene six weeks earlier and, despite denying the crime, Ion was charged and further remanded in custody.

However, with evidence mounting, on February 22 Ion pleaded guilty to raping the woman in Finsbury Park and admitted the robbery.

Detective Inspector Simon Dobinson, from the Sapphire Command, said: "This dangerous and violent offender has been removed from the streets and no longer poses a threat to women.

"The success of this investigation highlights the teamwork between borough and Sapphire officers from the initial response to the incidents to presenting a strong case ready for trial. It is another good example of the use of DNA as an investigative tool in identifying an offender."

'Benefits cap will hurt children'

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

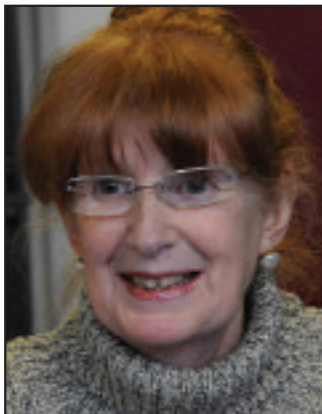

STAFF at a children's charity have warned that the benefit reforms which are being piloted in Enfield this month could have a devastating impact on the borough's children.

The benefits cap, which was introduced in Enfield and neighbouring Haringey on Monday, as well as in Bromley and Croydon in south London, will prevent people from receiving more than £26,000 a year from the state in benefits and welfare payments.

Single parents and couples with kids will have their government support capped at £500 per week, regardless of how many children are in the family.

The government claims the reforms will save the Treasury £110million a year. But Dee Eimer, chief executive of charity Enfield Parents & Children, which is based at Marsh House, in Montagu Road, Edmonton, has slammed the new proposals.

She told the Advertiser: "Parents are

Speaking out: Dee Eimer has warned about the impact of the benefits cap on the borough's kids getting even more stressed out at the thought of how they will cope on less money. Many of them can't even afford £1 or two for their children to come on one of our activities.

"They are counting every penny and when vital things need replacing, like children's shoes and clothes, they just don't know how they are going to pay for it.

"As it is they are going to food banks, and parents sometimes go hungry so children can eat.

"There is a real fear that unscrupulous loan sharks will take advantage of this situation and people will fall into deeper debt.

"Some families who used to have good incomes and lifestyles, who have lost their jobs, are also now facing challenging situations and for their children this is extremely difficult to adjust to."

A spokeswoman for Enfield Council told the Advertiser that local authority staff are estimating that more than 1,750 claimants in the borough will be affected by the changes.

She added that because all state benefits will now be paid to claimants in one universal payment, people will no longer receive a specific housing benefit payment.

So, to meet rent costs, they may have to make rent payments by dipping into child tax credits and child benefit sums.

Ahmet Oykener, the council's cabinet member for housing, said the authority estimates there will be 5,000 children in the borough affected by the cap.

He added: "We also believe there could be a significant impact on children living in families at the lower end of the income scale and we will be monitoring both the intended and unintended consequences of the reforms."

Secretary of State for Work and Pensions Iain Duncan Smith said: "The benefit cap is a key part of our reforms to restore fairness to the welfare state.

"It will provide clear incentives for people to get into employment and will give taxpayers the assurance that high claims out are no longer possible.

"We have also ensured vulnerable people are protected with clear exceptions for people claiming disability benefits."

Grieving family's agony at funeral mistakes

Upset: Ann Marie Lawless and, left, her mother Mary Theresa Lawless

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

AN undertaker's has been forced to apologise after making a series of blunders over the funeral of a grandmother from Enfield.

Mistakes made by staff at The Co-operative Funeralcare, in Lancaster Road, Enfield, include the ordering of a grave marker with Ann Marie Lawless' name on instead of the name of her mother, Mary Theresa Lawless.

And now Ann Marie, from Enfield, is considering suing the funeral parlour, which charged the family £5,681 for its services.

Her mother had died after a short illness aged 82 at Barnet Hospital, in Wellhouse Lane, High Barnet, on November 17 last year.

Undertaker says sorry after mix-up with name on grave marker

Mrs Lawless' relatives said the mistakes started almost as soon as they had signed a contract with The Co-operative Funeralcare.

Ann Marie said the undertaker failed to communicate with her in the run-up to the funeral.

And the family was unable to see her mother's body for six days.

When the coffin was finally brought to Ann Marie's sister's home in Cheshunt, final arrangements for the funeral route from Cheshunt to Enfield Cemetery and Crematorium, in Great Cambridge Road, had to be made just an hour before it was due to start.

Sorry: The Co-op funeral firm in Lancaster Road, Enfield

Then the family was left deeply shocked when the grave marker, which arrived two weeks late, had Ann Marie's, instead of Mary Theresa's, name on it.

"I really don't want any other family to go through what we have been through," said Ann Marie.

"Mum died very unexpectedly and we had no experience of dealing with this. It was a very difficult time for us.

"We decided to let The Co-operative take care of things for us, but they did not provide any support, advice and their communication was terrible. It was absolutely horrendous."

A spokesman for The Co-operative Funeralcare said: "We are extremely sorry about the mistake with the grave marker, which occurred as a result of human error.

"This was an isolated incident and we have taken steps to ensure it doesn't happen again.

"We have apologised to Mrs Lawless' family and have offered the family a reduction in our costs as a gesture of goodwill."

A spokeswoman from Photiades Solicitors, representing the family, said: "We consider The Co-operative to be in breach of their obligation to provide an efficient service.

"Their offer of £250 as a gesture of goodwill as against a bill of more than £5,000 is derisive and insulting."

Darren's marathon bid for hospital's children's ward

A MAN whose baby son died when he was just six days old is running the London Marathon to raise money for the children's ward that tried to save his life.

Darren Smith, 33, is taking part in the marathon for the first time – nine months after losing his son Isaac, who was born at North Middlesex Hospital, in Sterling Way, Edmonton, on July 27 last year.

Darren is aiming to raise money for the Evelina Children's Hospital, part of Guy's and St Thomas' Hospital, in south London.

Isaac was transferred there after doctors discovered he had suffered severe brain damage during his Caesarean section birth. Isaac underwent treatment at the hospital's neonatal intensive care unit.

His body temperature was kept low to try and prevent any further brain damage – but despite all the efforts to save him, Isaac died a few days later.

The care given to the family by hospital staff made such an impression on Darren, of Arcadian Gardens, Bowes Park, that he decided to run the marathon in aid of the hospital's charity fund, Together We Can.

He told the Advertiser: "The last eight months have been very difficult for me and my wife, but with our fundraising we are trying to give a positive spin to things.

"We can't turn back time and change what happened, but if we can raise money it would give the hospital a better chance of saving another life.

"The quality of care Isaac and our whole family received at the Evelina was fantastic. I have always wanted to run the London Marathon and we thought this would be the perfect opportunity to do it."

Marathon man – Darren Smith

The couple asked people to donate money instead of giving flowers at their baby's funeral and £4,500 was raised immediately for Together We Can.

Since then the sum has reached £13,000 – well above Darren's initial target of £10,000.

In total, he is hoping to raise £25,000, which would allow the hospital to buy an additional intensive care neonatal bed.

Trial hears of previous conviction

OPEMIPO Jaji sexually assaulted another youngster two years ago, the Old Bailey court heard.

The 18-year-old attacked a ten-year-old girl in 2011, the jury was told. He denies raping an 11-year-old in November last year.

Rosina Cottage QC, prosecuting, told the court last Wednesday that following a search of the defendant's home a book detailing the sexual assault of a girl when she was ten was discovered on his bed and a picture of a seven-year-old girl was found with a post-it note on which a possible reference to Facebook was written.

Miss Cottage said: "The items that were found in his bedroom, the prosecution say, show he has an interest in pre-pubescent girls and in sexual acts with pre-pubescent girls."

"He has a previous conviction that the prosecution also says shows a sexual interest in very young girls," she added.

Girl, 11, was dragged into

By Ruth McKee

AN 11-year-old schoolgirl was just metres from her home when she was grabbed by her attacker, dragged into a park and raped, a court was told.

In an interview recorded by police and played to a jury at the Old Bailey last Thursday, the young victim described her attempts to escape before she was dragged into Jubilee Park, in Galliard Road, Edmonton, and attacked.

Opemipo Jaji, 18, of Oswald Place, Edmonton, denies raping the 11-year-old on November 23 last year.

The girl said she had noticed a man, who had got off a 192 bus moments before her, acting suspiciously and walking slowly as if deliberately waiting for her to catch up with him.

His behaviour scared her, she said, and she crossed the road – but he followed her.

After crossing the road twice more in a bid to shake him off, the girl broke into a run and tried to make it to her house, she said during the police interview.

"I was running home but when I was ten houses down from my house he grabbed me," she said.

The court heard her describe how her attacker had dragged her into the park and pulled her into a wooded area. "I said, 'stop', I didn't know what was going on," she said. "He said he didn't want to do this but he had to."

The court heard the 11-year-old explain that the man told her he had to rape her so that he could 'protect his family' because people in a white Land Rover waiting on the edge of the park were making him do it.

The girl went on to give details of the three-hour ordeal, saying her attacker stripped her, raped her and then, when he was dis-nearly home when she was park and raped, court told

Attack scene: A police car in Jubilee Park, Edmonton

"I tried to run away," she said. "I ran up to the pavement of the park and then he grabbed me and said 'where are you going?'" .

The girl told the police officer interviewing her that the man then dragged her back into the dark park, raped her again and tried to force her to perform a sex act on him.

When her ordeal was finally over, she said that her attacker shouted after her: "I would run if I were you".

The court also heard the girl provide a detailed description of the clothes her attacker was wearing. The prosecution argue that the description matches items of clothing found in Jaji's home.

Her description of a man wearing white trainers and carrying a white bag also matches the CCTV images of Jaji captured on the 192 bus as it was leaving Enfield Town that afternoon.

Jaji admits he was on the bus. He says the girl's blood and DNA were on the waistband of his boxer shorts, one of his trainers and the white bag the victim describes him as carrying when she was attacked because he visited the crime scene later that night.

The trial continues.

'Tommy' turned up, says youth centre assistant manager

THE teenager accused of raping an 11-year-old girl in Jubilee Park last year went to a youth club in Edmonton less than 30 minutes after the attack, the Old Bailey heard on Thursday.

The court was told that soon after the girl reached home, Jaji, who denies rape, went to Croyland Road Youth Centre, in Croyland Road – less than a mile from the scene of the attack.

Jaji was captured on CCTV signing in at the centre at 8.25pm. Peri Revan, the centre's assistant manager, told the court that when she saw him she was struck by a strong smell coming from the 18-year-old.

"It was a damp smell, it was a bit smelly feety," she said. "I can't place the smell, it wasn't right."

Miss Revan said the defendant, whom she knows as Tommy, went to see her to explain why he hadn't turned up for a recording session he had booked for that afternoon. She told the court: "It was about 8.30pm and Tommy came into the kitchen. I hadn't seen him before that. He told me one of his colleagues had cut himself with a knife at work. I said he ought to go home and get changed."

Miss Revan said that Jaji had told her he hadn't had time to go and get changed as his manager had made him carry out a risk assessment after the accident.

In her opening statement last Wednesday, prosecutor Rosina Cottage QC had told the jury that Jaji's manager had told police there had been no accident that day or that week.

Jane Bickerstaff QC, defence counsel for Jaji, asked Miss Revan if the fire exit door at the youth centre was sometimes propped open and used as an alternative entrance.

"Sometimes the young people might exit the building through that door and they are issued with a warning if they do that," the assistant manager replied.

Asked if young people at the centre did this regularly, Miss Revan said: "They are worried about being banned but from time to time it happens."

There was a CCTV camera over that point of exit, she added.

Victim: Negus McClean, 15, was fatally stabbed in April 2011

Schoolboy's death was culmination of a bitter gang rivalry, court told

By Ruth McKee
ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

FOUR teenagers standing trial for the murder of 15-year-old Negus McClean were involved in a bitter postcode rivalry, a court has heard.

Brandon Hamilton, 18, of Broadoak Avenue, Enfield Lock, Bilal Lariba, 18, of Mayall Close, Enfield Lock, Tershan Dos Santos Edwards, 19, of St Albans in Hertfordshire, and a 16-year-old, who cannot be named for legal reasons, are on trial at the Old Bailey.

They are charged with the murder of the schoolboy in Edmonton on April 10 2011.

All four defendants deny the charges against them.

On Monday, prosecuting counsel Simon Denison QC told the court that the defendants were involved in a rivalry with teenagers from a neighbouring part of the borough.

He said the four teenagers were part of the Get Money Gang, based in the EN3 area of Enfield Lock, and that Negus was involved with their bitter rivals, Dem Africans, based in Edmonton, N9.

Mr Denison told the court: "This case arises out of an ongoing rivalry between two teenage gangs in north London that led to three young people being stabbed in three separate knife attacks in the space of one week in 2011.

"The first two (victims) were injured and survived. The third, a boy called Negus McClean, was not so fortunate."

The court was told that Mr Denison was referring to the stabbing of Jamal Mohamoud, 16, on April 3 2011, in St Stephens Road, Enfield Lock.

The prosecution says that this was an attack on a known Get Money Gang member by their Edmonton rivals Dem Africans.

Five days later, in an attack the prosecution alleges was retaliation for the stabbing of Jamal, a member of the rival Dem Africans gang, Okan Dumlupinar, was chased and repeatedly stabbed.

Mr Denison told the jury the week of blood-letting culminated in the fatal stabbing of Negus, a close friend of Mr Dumlupinar.

According to the prosecution, both were members of Dem Africans.

Describing the nature of the evidence against the defendants, Mr Denison told the court: "In this case, the evidence of the murder of Negus McClean relies on a series of pieces of circumstantial evidence against each of the defendants charged with his murder.

"That will include evidence of their association with the GMG and, if you accept it, cannot of itself prove guilt, but is a piece of the jigsaw, part of the overall picture, that we say will go to prove guilt."

He added that messages by the defendants via their phones and on the internet link them to the knife attacks carried out that week in April 2011.

The court heard that messages between Hamilton and his then girlfriend place him at the scene when Jamal was stabbed and thrown into a canal in St Stephens Road.

A Blackberry phone message from Hamilton to his girlfriend read: "I haven't [done anything bad] but don't blame me if I go on a mad ting."

According to Mr Denison, this means: "Don't blame me if I take revenge".

A 17-year-old girl, who cannot be named for legal reasons, is standing trial accused of perverting the course of justice.

Hamilton is also charged with one count of wounding with intent in an earlier, connected, knife attack.

The trial continues.

Courtroom fight breaks out as burglary gang are jailed

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

TWO police officers were hurt in a courtroom brawl during the sentencing of a gang of burglars on Monday.

After the judge had handed a 15-year jail sentence to Mark Laidlaw, 21, of no fixed abode, who had been found guilty of conspiracy to commit burglary, robbery and two aggravated burglaries, a man in the public gallery at Wood Green Crown Court started banging his fists on the wall in anger.

As the police tried to restrain him, a fight broke out between the man, a woman who was also in the public gallery and the officers. Three others also got involved in the scuffle, which ended after police back-up arrived in two vans. Three people were arrested on suspicion of affray and assault.

Two officers were taken to hospital, one with a suspected broken wrist and one with a suspected broken nose. The public gallery was packed with friends and relatives of the defendants, who stole cash, high-value cars and jewellery worth more than £400,000 from addresses in Enfield, Barnet and Islington during a burglary and robbery spree in August last year.

On one occasion, the gang forced their way into a house in The Bishops Avenue, Hampstead, and threatened a man and a woman with kitchen knives in front of their children before making off with cash and jewellery.

Mark Okeneme, 26, of Streamside Close, Edmonton, was sentenced to seven-and-a-half-years in prison for his part in the robbery rampage.

He pleaded guilty last month to conspiracy to burgle, possession of drugs with intent to supply and handling stolen goods.

Michael Mulcare, 23, of Clitterhouse Road, Cricklewood, was jailed for nine years and three months, Jason Reilly, 24 of no fixed abode, was sentenced to ten years and three months, Jordan Northover, 19, of Seven Sisters Road, Finsbury Park, was jailed for four years and Kyle Ettienne, 21, of no fixed abode, was sentenced to eight-and-a-half years after all four had admitted a number of burglary charges.

Laidlaw's mother, Karen Gordon, 49, of Prayle Grove, Cricklewood, pleaded guilty last month to harbouring an escaped prisoner after she booked hotels for her son while he was on recall to prison and will be sentenced next Monday.

Sentencing the men, Justice Rosa Dean said: "These offences show you are all lawless young men who live in your own bubble, paying no regard to the misery you have caused your victims, while being motivated by sheer greed."

"You were ruthless and absolutely brazen.

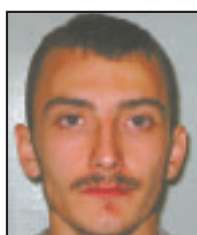

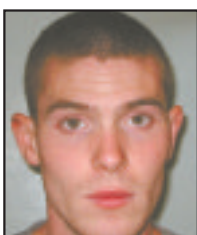

Homes were ransacked, you threatened your victims with screwdrivers and knives. The harm you have caused your victims is enormous as you did not only steal things of monetary value. A lot of things you took had sentimental value as well."

Detective Inspector Gordon King, of Barnet Police, said afterwards: "Bringing these criminals to justice took a great deal of hard work. Inquiries ranged across London, Hertfordshire and Thames Valley."

"Our efforts have been more than rewarded by knowing that these people face a considerable time in prison and our communities will be all the safer for it."

Jailed: Above, Mark Laidlaw and Mark Okeneme; below, Michael Mulcare, Jason Reilly, Jordan Northover and Kyle Ettienne

The ADVERTISER COMMENT

Traders have not been treated fairly

THE Edmonton traders threatened with eviction have been treated with a shocking level of disrespect.

While negotiations between their landlord and the shopping centre's owners broke down more than a year ago, none of the parties thought it was necessary to inform the traders.

St Modwen's claim that it supports local businesses rings hollow as no attempts have been made to find a similar empty unit into which Lloyds TSB could move, allowing the traders to stay and rent directly from the owners.

The group of 22 traders were shown a mere six units this week and St Modwen should know full well that most cannot afford these.

The council's planning committee will not be able to take into consideration the social impact of the Lloyds TSB move.

But it will be a disaster for independent traders at a time when things are already tough enough.

Benefit cuts getting people back to work

NEW council figures show that 50 per cent of the 503 private tenants in Enfield whose benefits face being reduced by more than £100 now the universal cap has been introduced say they are actively looking for work.

I welcome the courage shown by the government in tackling the burgeoning cost of welfare that traps people able to work into poverty, something the last Labour government said it would do, but never did.

The introduction of the £500-a-week benefit cap in Enfield poses some challenges for the local authority, but despite their political posturing, progress is being made in identifying the households most affected to provide advice and support.

We will continue to support those efforts. It is early days yet, but the signs are encouraging, with 15 per cent of those jobseekers already having been successful.

I think there is a brighter future for many as they take their first steps out of the poverty trap.

The reduction in housing benefit for council tenants of working age who have a one spare bedroom, or more, is another important reform that will reduce waiting lists in the longer term and reduce the benefit bill.

I fully support the exemptions for foster parents, those with sons and daughters in the Armed Forces and the disabled, who need the extra accommodation.

Councillor Edward Smith
Southgate ward

□ THE housing benefits changes and the new housing allocations scheme, along with the bedroom tax, will hit many poor families at a time when we as an authority are trying to address the child poverty situation.

Things could not get any worse – but unfortunately they have.

This new policy by the government is nothing short of the poll tax scandal in the early 1990s – and we know what happened then when councils had difficulty collecting it.

Under the Thatcherite “right to buy scheme” we never saw any replacement of housing stock and as a result we are faced with housing shortages and homelessness.

All of these Tory policies have proved to be a recipe for disaster and once again will prove to be so.

Enfield's Labour council recognising the current economic crisis affecting many families, decided to freeze council tax for the third year in a row

Shame the government chose to ignore calls from the ordinary people in our borough to provide help but instead gave them a kick in the teeth.

The people of this country will return the compliment come election time.

Councillor George Savva
Haselbury ward

Angry about school plans

I COULDN'T agree more with B Gleeson's letter on the “Death of democracy” (Advertiser, April 3).

As one of 20 neighbours, we had to sit until 10.30pm before the planning application to create a new primary school, shoehorned into the Edmonton County Bury campus site, was heard by councillors.

When it came to the vote, it was six against five. One Labour councillor listened to my deputation and agreed with my concern about the safety of children crossing Little Bury Street. She initially voted against the scheme before reluctantly raising her hand in favour of the new school. With the chairman's casting vote, it received planning permission.

So, beware if you live next door to a school as it won't be long before the council comes along to double its size and, it seems to me, you will be powerless to do anything about it.

Overdressed

AS a visitor to Enfield, I was disappointed to see security staff at the shopping centre dressed in paramilitary garb, black uniforms with army trousers and army boots.

I felt intimidated and fearful of the town itself, wondering whether the uniform is justified.

It also puts security staff at risk as the uniform antagonises people.

Drivers need to show more consideration

AM I invisible?

A quarter of my way across a Southbury Road zebra crossing one morning, the vehicle on my right had dutifully stopped to allow me to cross safely.

Unfortunately, two other cars on my left didn't hesitate to zoom past in succession at great speed.

Had I not been cautious – as is so necessary these days – I wouldn't even be writing my concerned letter.

What is lacking in the drivers of today? Is it a lack of knowledge of the law and the Highway Code, or simply a lack of consideration for society in general – not to mention understanding the consequences to them and myself?

Three-year football ban for man who threw banana at Spurs star

AN Arsenal supporter who admitted throwing a banana at Tottenham Hotspur star Gareth Bale has been banned from going to football matches for three years.

Thomas Flint, 23, of Brantwood Gardens, Oakwood, pleaded guilty to throwing the fruit and using threatening and abusive language when he appeared at Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court on Friday.

Flint admitted throwing a banana on to the pitch at White Hart Lane as Bale was taking a corner during the Premier League match between Spurs and their north London rivals Arsenal on March 3.

The incident was not thought to have been racially motivated.

The carpenter was given a three-year football banning order, fined £250 and ordered to pay costs of £85, as well as a victim surcharge of £25.

A spokesman for Arsenal told the Advertiser: "We are in support of Friday's outcome and will always take action against an individual found guilty of antisocial behaviour."

Tottenham won the north London derby 2-1, with Welsh international Bale scoring the opening goal. The 23-year-old has been in fine form for Spurs this season, scoring 22 goals in 38 games, and has been linked with a host of top clubs including Barcelona and Real Madrid.

Cause for applause: Gareth Bale has already scored 22 goals for Tottenham Hotspur this season

Police appeal for wine bar to be closed down

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

ENFIELD Police are petitioning councillors to shut down a wine bar after three men were stabbed outside it last month.

Police first applied to Enfield Council to revoke the licence of Rattlers Wine Bar, in London Road, Enfield, on Wednesday March 20.

That came soon after three men were stabbed in a fight that broke out outside the bar in the early hours of March 16.

The council's licensing subcommittee decided to suspend the bar's licence with immediate effect on March 22.

Today there will be a full review of the bar's licence at a meeting of the council's licensing subcommittee at the Civic Centre, in Silver Street.

At the hearing, data collated by Iain Agar, the council's community safety and partnership analyst, will reveal the extent of antisocial behaviour in the area around the bar. According to Mr Agar's report: "Three weeks up to and including March 17 saw 15 crimes in the vicinity within the specific hours.

Closed: Rattlers Wine Bar had its licence suspended on March 22

"This included three stabbing victims, one other violent crime and alcohol-related damage to property."

Supporting the application, PC Martyn Fisher has submitted a statement to the committee in which he outlines the problems which police have identified concerning the bar.

With particular reference to the March 16 fight in London Road, PC Fisher said: "Door supervisors and management categorically failed to deal with this incident adequately, resulting in three males receiving serious stab wounds."

Rattlers' manager Philip Walton has written a letter to the council stating: "The licensing panel found no evidence of shortcomings in either our commitment to or implementation of the licensing objectives and the individual conditions attached to our premises licence.

"This is a position that we strive to maintain and would like to assure the panel of our continued commitment to this end."

Have your say on future of fire service

A MEETING will be held tomorrow evening to let the public have a say on the future of the fire service in Enfield, Haringey and Barnet.

It will take place at the Grand Palace Banqueting Suite, in High Road, Wood Green, from 7pm to 9pm.

London Fire Brigade is organising the meeting as part of the public consultation on its Draft Fifth London Safety Plan.

The plan outlines the brigade's plans for the next three years, including how it proposes to save £28.8million.

Among the proposals are plans to close 12 fire stations, remove 18 fire engines and relocate four others and cut 520 firefighter posts.

This will be done while maintaining existing response time targets of getting the first fire engine to an incident in six minutes and the second, if needed, in eight minutes.

London Fire Commissioner Ron Dobson said:

"People will also have the opportunity to ask us questions and I'd urge everyone to come along and have their say."

Enfield is not being affected directly by the cuts and the only change in the three boroughs is that an extra fire engine will be added at Hendon fire station, in The Burroughs, Hendon.

London Assembly member for Enfield and Haringey Joanne McCartney, who has previously voiced her opposition to the planned closures, said: "It is important that we have our say on the proposals and I urge residents to attend the meeting tomorrow."

All change: London Fire Brigade needs to save £28.8million

Landlord counts cost of renting damp flat

A LANDLORD who risked a tenant's health by failing to carry out repairs on his damp and mouldy flat has been ordered to pay nearly £3,000.

Mark Tomlinson, of Trojans Estate Agents, in Bush Hill Park, Enfield, was served with an improvement notice by Barnet Council in April last year after the tenant reported severe problems with damp and condensation in his ground-floor flat in Oakleigh Road, Totteridge.

The extensive problems included rising and penetrating damp throughout the flat, along with mould in the bathroom.

Mr Tomlinson pleaded guilty at Brent Magistrates' Court earlier this month to failing to comply with the council's order and was ordered to pay £2,745.

Cabinet member for housing Tom Davey said: "This is a positive result for the council and demonstrates our commitment to making sure landlords in Barnet keep their property in a fit and safe condition for their tenants."

Cat Hill opponents take fight to court

By Daniel O'Brien

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS fighting a 231-home development on the borough's border with Barnet are preparing to take legal action after Enfield Council approved the plans last month.

Housing association L&Q's application to develop the former Middlesex University campus, in Cat Hill, Cockfosters, was passed by eight votes to five at a three-hour planning meeting last month at Ashmole Academy, in Cecil Road, Southgate.

The decision came despite a hard-fought campaign by residents and politicians, including Chipping Barnet MP Theresa Villiers, who argued that the development was too dense and would have a negative impact on wildlife.

However, last Wednesday the leader of the Campaign To Save Cat Hill, Kim Coleman, said that the group's solicitors had put the council on notice that it would be launching a judicial review against the planning committee's decision.

Planned homes: An artist's impression of the housing development in Cat Hill

Ms Coleman said: "Nobody in the group is prepared to give up because we feel that the planning committee meeting treated us extremely unfairly."

PROVIDING THE SOLUTION FOR DOMESTIC FLAT ROOFING PROBLEMS

The majority of homes in this area have flat roofs incorporating the old fashioned felt mineral finish and are fraught with potential problems.

Mineral felt slowly breaks down allowing water ingress into the home before the leak becomes visible. The seasons cause drying out, cracking and blistering and the inevitable problems become a stark reality.

The moss and algae build up associated with felt roofs disguises the slow deterioration of the surface and the eventual damage from the leak that was not visible to the eye.

Hybrid Roofing Limited, in partnership with Protan UK, today offers the most advanced flat roofing technology available to the homeowner.

Protan produced the first roofing membrane in 1971 and these installations are still serviceable today - 42 years on. With this pedigree architects specify Protan for vast quantities of new housing and also in the commercial market place.

Pair hope charger lights up Branson

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

TWO entrepreneurs who designed a way to charge a mobile phone using light from a Tube train could be given a chance to pitch their business idea to Sir Richard Branson.

Nathaniel Peat, 33, of New Park Avenue, Palmers Green, and his 23-year-old business partner Dowa Ojarikre, of Elmhurst Road, Enfield, have made it through to the semi-finals of the Virgin Media Pioneers Pitch to Rich competition – a Dragons' Den-style contest involving the Virgin boss.

The pair have started up a company that makes portable mobile phone chargers specifically designed to be charged by the bright lights of the London Underground.

Explaining where inspiration for the product came from, Nathaniel said: "On the train late at night, a mobile phone is an essential safety tool when needing to call a cab or friend to meet you."

"Having a portable charger like this allows you to recharge on the go."

The duo are determined to make it through to the last four of the competition as they would have the opportunity to sell their idea to Sir Richard and win a £5,000 cash prize.

"The money would be vital for our company," Nathaniel told the Advertiser.

"It means we could afford expert legal advice, branding and marketing advice and mentoring."

"This is a real example of a big company like Virgin helping out a smaller company."

Trained engineer Nathaniel struck out on his own after a spell of unemployment and set up his personal safety organisation The Safety Box.

Vote for us: Entrepreneurs Nathaniel Peat and Dowa Ojarikre are relying on the public to reach the final of Pitch to Rich

He met Dowa, who had set up her own mobile phone accessory company, at a Virgin Media Pioneers networking event.

Nathaniel realised that if they combined his engineering skills and experience of social enterprise with Dowa's knowledge of the mobile phone accessory business, they could develop a strong product.

The two are now relying on an online public vote to push them through to the finals of the competition. Voting is open until next Tuesday, and to vote for Nathaniel and Dowa, visit www.virginmediapioneers.com

THE FUTURE OF LONDON FIRE BRIGADE

London Fire and Emergency Planning Authority is consulting on its Draft Fifth London Safety Plan and we'd like your views.

We are holding a public meeting for residents of Barnet, Enfield and Haringey on Thursday, 18 April 7-9pm at Grand Palace Banqueting Suite, 242 High Road, Wood Green N22 8JX where we will outline our plans.

The plan sets out how the fire and rescue service could be delivered over the next few years. Amongst other things, it includes plans to keep within our target attendance times for getting to incidents and details how savings worth £28.8m could be made. These proposals also involve the closure of 12 fire stations, the removal of 18 fire engines, the redeployment of four fire engines and a reduction in the number of firefighter posts of 520.

For full details of the plan proposals and our online consultation go to: london-fire.gov.uk/LSP5

If you'd like us to send you a copy of our plan and consultation document, ring: 0800 9888 569

The consultation runs from 4 March to 17 June 2013.

Centenary celebrations: From left, Jon Brigg, Mick McDonagh, Mary Castro and Toni Guiver have helped to organise the two-day spectacular in Grovelands Park

Party in the park at centenary event

By Hannah Couch

news.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

TO mark 100 years since its official opening, Grovelands Park will be hosting a huge variety of events next month, including a historical pageant and a range of dance sessions.

Toni Guiver and Mick McDonagh, members of the Friends of Grovelands Park, have organised a "fun community event", which is due to take place on May 18 and 19 at the park in The Bourne, Southgate.

Kicking off the two-day celebration is a historical pageant, organised by schools and community groups, in a bid to replicate the 1913 opening.

Other events include Dance Through The Ages when people will have the chance to learn popular dance moves from across the years.

Visitors can put their best foot forward and try everything from tea dancing to the jitterbug. The Friends of Grovelands Park are also encouraging people to dress up in the clothing of the generation for the procession.

Toni hopes that the centenary celebrations will not only mark the park's special anniversary, but also show how much it means to the community.

"After such a long and bleak winter, we all need some lovely cheer," she told the Advertiser.

"I think that the dance events through the ages will be a great hit and the whole weekend will be a really exciting and vibrant occasion with lots of music and dance."

"We want the local community to have a great weekend and to mark the 100 years of our park with a flourish."

Organisers are still looking for volunteers to help the two-day celebration run smoothly.

Anyone interested in getting involved should email grovelands100@gmail.com.

Labour still obsessed by Margaret Thatcher

YES, I remember that May morning in 1979 when Margaret Thatcher first got in as Prime Minister.

Out in the playground the sun was shining, but black clouds loomed over the staffroom. Colleagues spoke in hushed tones – you'd have thought someone close to us all had died.

The minority of Conservative-voting teachers smirked guiltily at one another, like adulterous lovers behind a husband's back.

And, like most people, I can remember exactly what I was doing when I heard the news of Mrs Thatcher's resignation.

We were in the middle of assembly. Unexpectedly, the school caretaker (or site manager, as we'd call him now) appeared at the back of the hall. Even more unexpectedly, he was smiling.

He held up a piece of cardboard on which he had written the words: "Maggie's resigned". Teacher morale soared to abnormal heights that day.

It was the left, not the right, which first built Mrs Thatcher up into a superhuman, mythic figure.

We talked about her as a kind of bogeywoman and we needed her as an excuse for our own failure.

But the Conservative Party, and Mrs Thatcher herself, soon realised that they, too, could use this bogeywoman image and that it could even be a vote winner.

Those who worked with her say that Mrs

Thatcher was a considerate boss, always kind to junior staff. However, she was marketed, very successfully, as a bully.

It is no surprise that two of the most fulsome tributes to Mrs Thatcher have come from Labour leader Ed Miliband and from his suntanned predecessor, Tony Blair.

For it is mainly thanks to the Blair and Brown governments that we still have the Thatcherite legacy – an insane housing market, sweatshop working conditions and an economy dominated by the bankers. Even now Labour, more than any other party, continues to be mesmerised by Mrs Thatcher's "achievements".

B&O

WHAT MOVES YOU

A year ago, 40 business owners met in a pub in Winchmore Hill to talk about ways of working together to promote businesses in our local area. N21 Live Local Spend Local was born. The message is simple - use us or lose us. In our first year we have tried to make local residents aware of just how important their spending power is to the prosperity of their home area and in keeping Grange Park and Winchmore Hill attractive places to live.

We're realistic; we know that many residents have less cash to spend and that we can't hold back the tide of Internet shopping. Our message is - make small changes to how you spend your money, as collectively this can make an enormous difference to your local economy.

For Christmas we ran a £100 plus campaign. 65 N21 businesses sponsored a leaflet, distributed to the 9,500 households in the postcode, which explained that if each household could spend an extra £100 in N21 over Christmas, instead of online or in the West End etc, it would put nearly £1 million into our local economy. And yes, a lot of people said WOW!

This year we will be keeping up the residents' campaign, but we also recognise that our businesses have got to earn their keep - by selling goods and services that people actually want to buy, in attractive surroundings and offer value in these difficult times. If you have watched Mary Portas and more recently Alex Polizzi, The Fixer on TV, you will know that it is possible to rejuvenate local businesses, even in these difficult times. It's no good just moaning about lack of customers, you have to move with the times and we want to help N21 businesses to do this.

As part of our campaign to promote N21 Live Local Spend Local we would like to invite residents from across the Borough to pay us a visit. We have lots of strong independent shops selling quality products for you and your home, a cluster of excellent restaurants, pubs and coffee shops and plenty of spaces to pamper yourself as well. Take a stroll round Winchmore Hill Green, Woodcroft Wildspace and Grovelands Park. There is a strong community ethos, you may have heard about about the highly successful N21 Festival last year. This year, the Friends of Grovelands Park are planning a Festival to celebrate the Centenary of Grovelands Park on May 18th-19th. Why not make a note in your diary?

N21 Live Local Spend Local is still very new, but we recognise that community collaboration is vital to the sustainability of our local area. What we have started can be set up in other local areas, encouraging people to take a personal responsibility for the wellbeing of their local area. You can play your part by spending more in your home area.

The alternative is doing nothing, and face a future of boring, featureless and soulless streets, full of boarded up shops and devoid of amenities. Welcome to Winchmore Hill, we are open for business and appreciate your pounds.

Doug Taylor

Leader of Enfield Council

Every adult should have the best chance of a healthy life, regardless of where they live

THE measles outbreak in Swansea, which has appeared regularly on our TV screens, is a stark reminder that public health is a serious matter.

I am therefore pleased to welcome a public health team to Enfield Council, which will be dedicated to the wider public health concerns and campaigns in the borough.

Enfield faces some huge health challenges. Upper Edmonton has the worst female life expectancy in north central London and the sixth worst in London. Enfield also has one of the worst childhood obesity rates in the country.

This situation is compounded by a level of government funding which appears to have no relation to the needs of local people, or the gap in life expectancy between the east of the borough and the west.

I believe that every child deserves to get the best start in life and that every adult should have the best chance of leading a long healthy life, irrespective of where in the borough they happen to live.

However, despite these challenges, our new public health team is steadily making inroads into the health issues that affect Enfield's residents.

For example, we have learned that Year 6 childhood obesity rates in the borough are the most improved in London.

The advantages of including public health within the council is that we can share information about the population's health and coordinate work across council services to help inform residents and address the main issues.

I am determined that health will be considered in every council policy going forward – it is everybody's business, and everybody's concern.

Since health is a measure of some of the inequalities across the borough, I am delighted that deficiencies in health services in the Ordinance Road area are being addressed.

This is an area where up to half of residents don't have a GP.

Demolition work has just started on the old library site and by next year a joint service centre providing space for doctors' surgeries, dentists, a community hall and a new library building will provide the modern services that our residents deserve and expect.

This will make a real difference.

Starters set pattern for a decent lunchtime offering

The Gannets

Bar Ten
8-10 Silver Street
Enfield
EN1 3ED
020 8364 5005

IT IS easy to overlook Bar Ten as a place for some light lunchtime refreshment for a couple of hungry birds.

This restaurant-cum-bar is all sleeky décor, with clean, straight edges that give it a modern, rather than homely feel, although the friendly staff lend it a rather cheery atmosphere.

And the Mediterranean cuisine offered up to diners is not to be sniffed at – particularly Bar Ten's award-winning kebabs.

So Gruff Gannet and I waddled down Silver Street to find ourselves a table – not a difficult task on the midweek lunchtime that we visited with other diners few and far between.

But more fool them for there is much to enjoy at Bar Ten – most impressive where the generous starters are concerned.

I chose the lovely fat whitebait (£5), encased in a beautifully crisp breadcrumb coating, and it was far superior to the usual pub grub offering. It was perfect with a drizzle of lemon, although more salad would have been welcome.

Gruff Gannet was also delighted with the feta cheese parcels (sigara borek) he ordered.

These long, cheese-filled rolls were wonderfully warm and creamy in the middle and complemented beautifully by the parsley and crispy filo pastry. Again, a little extra salad would not have gone amiss.

The mains were also a hit.

Gruff's two kofta patties (£6.50) were cooked to perfection.

Meaty and gently spiced, they were left slightly rare in the middle – a gamble that more than paid off.

My chicken shish with halloumi kebab (£7.95) was not quite as pleasing.

The chicken was a little on the dry side, although tender and tasty enough. But the chunky halloumi had a lovely texture and steered well clear of chewy.

Both were accompanied by some lovely fat Turkish rice, pitta bread and salad, although the chef should go easy on the dressing, which overpowered the fresh salad ingredients somewhat.

All in all there was little that my feathered friend and I could fault at Bar Ten and I would highly recommend a visit.

Miss Julie still causing stir 125 years after being born

By Mary McConnell

mary.mcconnell@nlhnews.co.uk

A NEW translation of Swedish play Miss Julie is on its way to the Dugdale Centre in Enfield Town this weekend.

August Strindberg's 1888 work is the story of sexual desire across class boundaries.

Developed as part of the Strindberg 2012 series to mark the centenary of his death, this production is visiting 13 different venues across the country.

The play was banned for 50 years for its then shocking portrayal of sexuality and inter-class relationships in 19th-century society.

It is now widely regarded as Strindberg's masterpiece and is still pertinent today.

Miss Julie tells the story of an aristocratic woman drawn to her father's socially ambitious valet. However, what starts as a harmless flirtation soon descends into a ferocious power struggle and battle of the sexes, from which neither can escape.

Director Denis Noonan said: "Miss Julie is a very powerful piece. My production strives to be true to Strindberg's original intentions, to be direct and have an immediacy to the audience.

"I want them to be involved and affected by what they see on stage, much like Strindberg's audience was when the original production was staged back in 1889.

PETIE LE MAY

Intense relationship: A scene from Denis Noonan's adaptation of Strindberg's Miss Julie

"The whole process of translating the play took about eight months, working with the actors on the text and also improvising around some of the lines to enable them to embody the voices of the characters.

"The result is a production that is exciting and accessible to a modern audience and that the actors have a real ownership of."

Miss Julie is being performed at 8pm on Saturday at the Dugdale, in London Road, Enfield. Tickets cost £11-£15. Call the box office on 020 8807 6680 to book.

Classical concert will leave you at sixes and sevens

THE Southgate Symphony Orchestra will be joined by a renowned flautist for a performance on Saturday of the French and German-themed programme Les Six Plus Sieben.

Julie Groves is lending her talents to the SSO, conducted by Adrian Brown, for the evening of classical music by two French and two German composers.

The concert opens with the impressionistic Petite Suite, by Claude Debussy.

Continuing the French theme will be Flute Sonata, by Francis Poulenc, before Austrian-born Mozart's Andante for flute and orchestra in C Major is performed.

The evening will finish with the stirring dance-like rhythms of Symphony No 7 in A Major, by Beethoven.

The concert is being staged at The Bourne Methodist Church, in The Bourne, Southgate.

Julie, who trained at the Trinity School of Music, performs as a soloist and session musician, an orchestral musician and as part of the acclaimed London Myriad Ensemble, which won first prize in 2009 at the International Israeli Music Competition.

SSO was founded in the 1960s by Terry Hawes, music lecturer at the then newly opened Southgate Technical College.

It became a registered charity in 2007.

The concert begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12 for adults, £10 concessions and £5 kids. They are available from 07092 879 097 or online at www.southgatesymphony.co.uk or www.facebook.com/southgateorchestra

FAMILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Former Albany pupils and teachers invited to school reunion

By Jim Brock

news.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

FORMER pupils and teachers of Albany School are invited to share their memories at a reunion this weekend.

The ticket-only event is being held at Cheshunt Football Club, in Theobalds
Lane, Cheshunt, from 7.30pm on Saturday to 12.30am.

Admission is £10 and there will be a buffet and disco. Any surplus money will go to charity Help for Heroes.

This is the third reunion of the secondary school, which was located in Bell Lane, Enfield, for 70 years before closing in 2009.

Oasis Academy Hadley was then based in the former Albany School buildings before moving to its new site in South Street, Ponders End, in January.

Reunion organiser Sue Cecil (née Hollister), who was a pupil at the school from the year it became a comprehensive in 1967 until leaving in 1972, said:

"It started a few years ago with a group of us who keep in touch. We would bump into old school friends and wonder 'what or where or who?'"

Two reunions have been held since then, with each attracting around 140 people, while about 400 people are members of a Facebook page.

Sue is hoping that this year's event will be even more popular.

She added: "It should be a really good evening. Some people come along because they like to keep in touch with people, or see what they look like now and find out what they are doing.

"There have been no bad feelings and it really is like old friends together."

To save anyone the embarrassment of not being able to recognise their old classmates, everyone gets a name badge with their year group on it.

Among the familiar faces at the reunion will be a number of former teachers, with Mike Ormerod, Eithne

Clancy, who is now married to Mike,
Harry Pratsides, Ray Turner, Roger Haynes, Steve Craig, Roger Gow, former deputy headteacher Joan Jenkins, Lesley
Quinlan, June Colley and Denise
Bradshaw among those who have confirmed they will be attending.

Last year saw people jetting in for the reunion. However, even if you can't make it, Sue would still like to hear from more former Albany pupils, who can get in touch via phone, email or Facebook.

To get in touch and to book tickets, email albanydaze@hotmail.co.uk, leave a message on the Albany mobile phone on 07592 233 551 or visit the Facebook page by searching "Albany School Enfield Middlesex".

People will also have a chance to buy copies of the three albums recorded by school folk group The Albany Folk.
They will be available by donation with proceeds going to Help for Heroes.

Metropolis Surveyors LLP were recently shortlisted in a major Mortgage Industry Awards event in Central London, at the prestigious Grosvenor House Hotel.

The Mortgage Strategy Awards are widely accepted by the industry as being one of the major award events of the year, and this year was no exception. Attended by 900 people, the Awards were hosted by the excellent Gabby Logan from BBC Sport.

Metropolis were proud to Sponsor the Best Buy to Let Award, which went to Coventry for Intermediaries, but more importantly were shortlisted in the Best Surveyor Category, alongside some real industry heavyweights! This is a national award and testimony to the fact that small independent companies can compete on a level playing field with the big guys, providing they can deliver service and have the proposition right for the client.

2012 saw a real growth for Metropolis' secured lending valuations in particular with many new clients coming on board. The level of service and meeting the clients expectations has seen the firm secure more and more new clients, with many recommendations across the industry at a national level.

Ultimately the Award went to Colleys, but to be nominated was proof that Metropolis' star is in the ascendancy!

Speaking after the event, Karl Knipe, Partner of Metropolis said, "It's a shame that we didn't win in the end, but the fact that the voting is based on nominations from people we work with every day, and finally judged by some very respected industry stalwarts, we are proud to have received the nomination, and more importantly proud of the people in the business who have got us to this point. I really want to thank the team at Metropolis for the hard work and dedication they have shown to make the business what it is!"

VERTONGHEN'S TOP-FOUR GOAL

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

JAN VERTONGHEN insists that morale is still high in the Tottenham Hotspur camp even though their poor run of form continued with last week's elimination from the Europa League.

The Belgian defender was sent off during Thursday's second leg of their quarter-final at Basel which, as had been the case in the opening match at White Hart Lane, ended in a 2-2 draw as the tie went to penalties – where misses from Tom Huddlestone and Emmanuel Adebayor proved decisive as the Swiss side triumphed 4-1.

Spurs were then without a Premier League match at the weekend due to Chelsea's involvement in the FA Cup semi-finals, and Arsenal took advantage of their inactivity to climb above them into fourth place in the table.

But even though their hopes of Champions League qualification are very much in the balance, Vertonghen insists that there is still an upbeat mood in the squad.

"I hope the Basel match makes us stronger," he said. "You could see there was a team together on the pitch – we really fought for each other for 120 minutes.

"We have to stay together and go for that top-four place in the Premier League. We have had a rest, we clear our heads and we come back against Manchester City on Sunday.

"A lot of players could be coming back, important players, and we only have big games now. We go for the highest place possible."

And, having been in the top four for so long, midfielder Clint Dempsey admits that Spurs' season will be judged a failure if they miss out on a place in the Champions League.

He said: "We're frustrated we're not in the Europa League anymore, but we have to regroup and we have to focus on the league.

"We have to make sure we finish in fourth place and make sure we're in the Champions League next year.

"That's the only thing we can do to salvage this season and say we had a good year. That's been the goal for the season. It's important that we get into the Champions League."

Meanwhile, Adebayor has defended himself after coming in for some severe criticism for his poor penalty against Basel.

The striker blazed the ball well over the bar after taking a stuttering run-up, but he insisted that it was not easy to score from the spot.

"It's tough," he said. "You run around for 120 minutes, you give everything you have in your stomach, you are tired, you play with ten men for 30 minutes and at the end of the day you have to take a penalty.

"The pressure is there when you take the ball. I have taken penalties for Arsenal and Real Madrid. It's a gamble. You miss or you score. I missed against Basel, I am very disappointed – but that's football."

Remaining upbeat: Jan Vertonghen is still confident Spurs can finish in the top four

Skolars' poor start to league continues

THE London Skolars are still searching for their first point of the season in the Kingstone Press Championship One after suffering a 44-6 defeat at North Wales Crusaders on Sunday.

Having started the campaign so well in the Northern Rail Cup, the Skolars have failed to transfer that form to the league and this latest loss has left them bottom of the table.

The visitors competed well during a first half which ended with them trailing by just six points, but the Crusaders pulled away after the interval as they scored six unanswered tries to end up as comprehensive victors.

Jono Smith forced his way over the line to open the scoring for the hosts, but the Skolars got back on level terms midway through the first half as Erjon Dollapi powered through the defence to touch down. Dylan Skee added the conversion.

The Skolars then had to withstand a period of sustained pressure and worked hard to keep the Crusaders out – but their defence was eventually breached two minutes before the interval as Andy Gorski scored a try.

And their defensive efforts on a heavy pitch took their toll as the game progressed and the hosts were able to cut loose in the second half.

Gary Middlehurst scored their third try two minutes after the restart, while Gorski touched down again and Rob Massam (two), Gary Middlehurst, Leon Brennan and Christiaan Roets also crossed the line to seal an emphatic triumph.

The London Skolars' next match is at home to South Wales Scorpions on May 5.

Keeper on target as Borough hit seven

GOALKEEPER Erbil Bozkurt got on the scoresheet as Haringey Borough enjoyed a resounding 7-2 victory at basement side Holmer Green in the Spartan Premier Division on Saturday.

Although Darrell Cox scored a hat-trick, it was Bozkurt's goal in the closing stages which the match will most be remembered for as he launched a massive kick from the edge of the box which took a surprisingly high bounce off the saturated playing surface and flew over Holmer keeper Dan Little – with the ball having just enough momentum to trickle over the line.

Playing for the fifth time in eight days, it took Borough 23 minutes to break the deadlock as Cox forced the ball over the line after an initial shot had been blocked – and he doubled the advantage with an effort which took a wicked deflection soon after.

Cox went on to complete his hat-trick five minutes into the second half, and Cedric Lakole added the fourth from the spot after Holmer's Michael Green was dismissed for deliberate handball in the box.

Anthony McDonald increased the lead with a fine individual effort, before a spirited response from the visitors saw them score twice in quick succession.

However, this was just a temporary blip for Borough and McDonald struck again with a low shot into the corner from just outside the box, before Bozkurt's remarkable goal rounded off the scoring.

Haringey Borough entertain Dunstable Town on Saturday (3pm).

People from all walks of life can become Foster Carers...

Supported Fostering Services (SFS) is a long established local charity recruiting individuals and families to look after children in the care system.

Sadly, for some children their home is not a caring or safe place. There are many different reasons. Abuse, neglect, or maybe the parents just can't cope.

Children of all ages need foster carers to look after them until their future can be sorted out. If you want to help a child why not become an SFS foster carer?

There are no formal qualifications required to foster although you should have childcare experience. You don't have to be married or own your own house, but you must have at least one spare bedroom that's just for fostering and want to make a difference in a child's life.

Above all, children in care need the opportunity to live in a safe caring environment. Like all other children, given the right support they have fantastic potential that's just waiting to be unlocked. SFS, rated Outstanding by Ofsted, is dedicated to providing the highest quality foster homes. Carers are recruited from a wide range of backgrounds to meet the different needs of children in the care system.

If you have a spare room and can offer a child a caring home SFS will provide training, 24 hour support, and a generous tax free weekly allowance of £385 per child.

Why not drop in to one of our Information days for an informal chat or visit our website and we'll give you details on how to become an SFS foster carer. If you can't make it to our open day we can visit you at home – just give us a call to arrange a convenient time.

Who's the foster carer?

They all are...

People from all walks of life can become foster carers. In fact, at SFS we actively seek a whole range of people to match the different needs and backgrounds of the children we foster.

There are no formal qualifications required. We welcome applications from people from different ethnic and cultural backgrounds.

You don't have to be married or own your own house, but you must have at least one spare bedroom that is just for fostering.

There's no set age range, but we do expect people to be mature enough to work with the complex issues that the children may have, and fit enough to perform this very demanding task.
